Foreword

The University of Agriculture, Faisalabad (UAF) aims to create a long-term impact via sustainable agricultural production, technological innovation, and competent manpower to ultimately, provide innovative knowledge, breakthrough research, and futuristic leadership. Under its prime mandate, UAF expands, advances, and promotes education and research through innovative and contemporary approaches to remain competitive in the global arena, state-of-the-art framework for global competitiveness and innovative pathways, in pursuing its commitment to education, research and community services. UAF links research activities directly to the educational and economic priorities of the country.

The Annual Report 2023-24 encapsulates UAF's ambitions, achievements, and initiatives in diverse fields of learning and innovation. During the year, UAF research was transformed into products and services for the community. Several research patents were registered and filed, and various seminars, conferences, symposia, and workshops were organized to keep researchers updated with current knowledge and to enable continued service to the community.

University of Agriculture, Faisalabad has consistently undertaken numerous large-scale research, initiatives and community based development projects/services and improvement in academic infrastructure. UAF established flagship initiatives such as the Pak-Korea Nutrition Center, National Center for Genome Editing in Crops, and the Seed Center. Crop varieties—Quinoa UAF Q-7, Maize Pro-Vitamin A—and flower varieties—Golden Princess and Golden Beauty (Gul-e-Ashrafi)—were approved by the respective authorities for general cultivation, while mango, okra, wheat, cotton, and sunflower varieties are at various stages of approval. In collaboration with the Punjab Agriculture Department, UAF launched a massive provincial campaign on wheat growing and farmers' consultation. UAF deputed 20,000 students and 100 faculty members across the five divisions of Punjab to raise awareness among farmers about the Government of Pakistan's incentives and policies—such as the Kisan Card, Agricultural Transformation Plans, and National Productivity Enhancement Plans.

Thus, UAF has evolved in response to contemporary challenges while pursuing its larger goals to transform national agriculture and support the farming community's success. UAF's research initiatives, community based development and service projects will ultimately bolster the status of agriculture, giving it a stature comparable to professions deemed more prestigious. Drawing upon contemporary interdisciplinary research, UAF moves forward with a focus on quality and impactful research and knowledge dissemination to solve the problems of the farming community and civil society.

The scientific community at UAF is confident that the university will continue to grow and expand steadily, with rejuvenated spirits, renewed vision and strengthened resolve to overcome any challenges—seeking new vistas of progress, innovation, and prosperity. Last but not least, I appreciate the entire editorial team and advisory committee for doing a commendable job preparing this annual report, which reflects the tenacity, devotion, and commitment of the faculty and administration at the University of Agriculture, Faisalabad, Pakistan.

BRIEF ON THE UNIVERSITY OF AGRICULTURE, FAISALABAD-PAKISTAN

The region's first major agricultural higher learning institution was the Punjab Agricultural College and Research Institute, Lyallpur (Present Faisalabad) established in 1906. It served for much of the century as the premier center for tropical agricultural education and training, contributing substantially to agrarian development through knowledge creation and dissemination.

After independence, the Government of Pakistan appointed a National Commission on Food and Education to review the agrarian system in all its aspects and propose measures to harness the full potential of agricultural resources. The Commission strongly recommended establishing an agricultural university to enhance research and education. Pursuant to these recommendations, in 1961 the former Punjab Agricultural College and Research Institute, Lyallpur was upgraded to the University of Agriculture, Faisalabad.

The Governor of Punjab is the Chancellor of the university, with the Punjab Agriculture Minister as Pro Chancellor. The Vice Chancellor is the Principal Executive and Academic Officer, responsible for running the university in accordance with its Act, statutes, rules, and regulations. The Chancellor acts as the appellate authority for any university action or decision and may order a merit based review.

UAF as Pakistan's leading institute producing highly educated, trained, inspired professionals and future scientists, UAF has played a pivotal role in agricultural modernization and rural upliftment, not only in Pakistan but also in many developing and developed countries. The university focuses on transferring knowledge to the farming community, working multidimensionally to improve their socioeconomic status and boost national agricultural exports.

UAF secured 61st position in Plant & Animal Sciences in the National Taiwan University (NTU) Rankings 2023, and 66th place in Agriculture & Forestry in the QS World University Rankings 2023. These achievements underline its standing as a globally recognized institution.

In short, UAF has evolved into Pakistan's premier agricultural education and research institution. Renowned globally for its contributions to sustainable agriculture, food security, and rural development, UAF offers a diverse range of academic programs, cutting edge research facilities, and strong industry linkages. With its commitment to excellence, UAF continues to serve as a hub for knowledge creation, policy guidance, and capacity building, contributing significantly to national and global agricultural progress.

CONTROLLER OF EXAMINATIONS

Office of the Controller of Examinations plays a spectacular role in public image building of the University. The students demand timely declaration of result, issuance of various documents like detailed marks certificate, provisional certificate, etc. and an early evaluation of their theses. Final result notification process right from receipt of GS-10/UG-1 forms and award lists have been computerized. The process, which used to take months, now takes days and is almost error free. The documents are issued at the earliest or as and when the due process is complete. The results are received via LMS and online result submission portals. The electronically submitted results are accessed and used for compilation and notification purpose. This has saved a lot of time and labour that was otherwise laborious manual feeding of data.

Declaration of Results

Office of the Controller of Examinations issues the semester result notifications as well as final result notifications. In addition to this, Postgraduate Section of the Controller of Examinations office notifies the award of degrees to the successful candidates thrice in a month. The result notifications of PhD Scholars are issued immediately after all the requisite formalities are fulfilled. During the year under report, 139 scholars were admitted to the degree of PhD (Annexure-I).

Affiliated Institutes

The Controller of Examinations office also conducts the examinations of the students from the affiliated Institutes. There are 6 In-Service Government Agricultural Training Institutes in different areas of the Punjab and one Extension Services Management Academy (ESMA) at Garhi Dopatta, Muzaffarabad, Azad Kashmir affiliated with the University for three years Diploma course in Agricultural Science (DAS) and two years Livestock Assistant Diploma (LAD) and Two years Poultry Assistant Diploma Course (PAD) at UAF Sub-Campus Toba Tek Singh. During the year under report 357 DAS, 271 LAD and 09 PAD students qualified the above said diplomas.

Economic Measures

As against the previous practice, the PhD thesis are now got evaluated using email in about more than 90% of cases. This has saved a lot of time, money and the number of PhDs produced has markedly increased by using I.T gadgets.

PhD Comprehensive Examination

Comprehensive examination for PhD students was held thrice. During the year 2023-24, 266 PhD students appeared in the comprehensive examination. The proceedings of the oral part of comprehensive examination are also recorded to ensure unbiased evaluation of the scholar or other possible issues (if any).

GRE (Subject) Type Test

Controller of Examinations office conducts the GRE (subject) type test for admission in PhD studies in different subjects four times in the year under consideration.

Entry Tests

Controller of Examinations office conducted two entry tests (both in the morning and evening sittings) for admission in first degree programme at UAF during the year 2023-24. The detail is as under:

Date	Entry Test	Total Candidates
09-07-2023	First Degree Program	11728
06-08-2023	First Degree Program	14698

Establishment of Electronic Script Marking Facility

In order to bring complete transparency in the marking of scripts and reducing the time for declaration of results, scripts scanning and preparation of results electronically was established. The capacity of this system was further enhanced by adding more resources and equipments.

RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT (AN OVERVIEW)

During the reporting year, the Office of Research, Innovation and Commercialization (ORIC-UAF), demonstrated significant achievements during the year 2023-24, showcasing its commitment to research, innovation, and national development. ORIC-UAF's consistent efforts led to it securing the top position among HEC-recognized ORICs for the second consecutive time, earning an additional 15% overhead on HEC-funded projects.

Research and Development Excellence

UAF significantly increased funded research projects from national and international bodies, addressing critical global issues like climate change, healthcare and food security, as well as advancing fields such as artificial intelligence and sustainable energy. Key initiatives included:

- Partial research support for postgraduate students
- A notable increase in national and international research publications
- Successful registration of new varieties and patents
- Reimbursement of publication charges and payments for filing patents/trademarks/variety registrations
- Establishment of new faculties and institutes and the introduction of new degree programs
- Active involvement of faculty and students in the Wheat Enhancement Campaign 2023
- Introduction of various training courses, seminars, webinars and workshops to enhance the capabilities of government officers, faculty and graduate students

Fostering Innovation and Entrepreneurship

UAF has significantly boosted its support for startups and entrepreneurial ventures. Programs like NIC, BIC, and Plan-09, along with IP awareness workshops, have equipped aspiring entrepreneurs with essential tools. The collaboration with HBL to establish HBL Zari Dera exemplifies UAF's dedication to agricultural innovation.

A major milestone was the registration of Agri. Connect Innovations (Pvt.). Ltd., UAF's first official company, designed to facilitate faculty startups and promote entrepreneurial activities. This initiative aims to translate research into commercially viable solutions, contributing to institutional self-reliance and national economic growth.

The establishment of the Technology Innovation Support Center and the First Agri. Tech. Park by the Special Technology Zone Authority (STZA), Government of Pakistan is set to revolutionize research commercialization. This park will provide institutional and legislative support, including fiscal incentives to attract foreign investors, incentivize entrepreneurs and create jobs.

Quality Assurance and International Standards

UAF maintains a rigorous monitoring mechanism for HEC scholars and PhD supervisors. Recognizing the importance of international standards for exports, the Institutional Biosafety Committee (IBC) and Institutional Bioethics Committee (IEC) organized capacity-building workshops and online safety courses leading to an increase in Biosafety/Bioethics Certificates. UAF now holds 24 NBC licenses for transgenic work, indicating a growing awareness among faculty and postgraduate students.

Global Rankings

ORIC-UAF actively provides data to various ranking agencies to ensure UAF's deserved position globally. UAF achieved the 66th position worldwide and 12th in Asia in the QS World Universities Ranking. Similarly, HEC issued an Annual ORIC Self-Assessment Evaluation Report for the Financial Year 2023-24, wherein ORIC UAF was placed in top notched "W" category. The self-assessment scorecards submitted by ORICs was reviewed by the HEC for validation purposes. Upon completion of the self-assessment and validation exercises, a report was issued by the HEC that conveys ORICs' performance ranking. The ranking determines the percentage of financial overheads an ORIC is entitled from HEC-sponsored research grants based on the certain criteria.

State of the Art Central Hi-Tech Lab

The Central Hi-Tech Lab (ISO Certified 9001; 2015) provides sophisticated sample analysis services to UAF and other organizations. The recent addition of a Zetasizer, funded by ORIC, will provide particle size measurement facilities nationwide. Currently, ten labs offer commercial analytical services, generating revenue for the university. An Instrument Repair Cell is also being established to address non-functional equipment.

National and International Collaborative Research

UAF boasts a strong history of securing research funding from various national bodies, including HEC, PSF, PARC/ALP, PAS, and provincial governments. The university consistently promotes internationalization and global connectivity, fostering collaborations with numerous renowned international institutions such as UC-Davis (USA), University of Kassel (Germany), CSIRO Australia, and the Chinese Academy of Sciences, among many others. These collaborations facilitate the exchange of expertise and collaborative research projects, including initiatives like the CPEC Collaborative Research Grant and Pak France Joint Programs.

Impact and Future Outlook

The competitive research grants secured by faculty have significantly supported postgraduate research, expanded laboratory facilities, sponsored studentships, and strengthened research communication and outreach. The indirect costs from these grants have been crucial for meeting recurring expenses, providing small grants for innovative research, offering bridge financing for projects, incentivizing patent/variety registrants, reimbursing publication charges, providing seed money for business startups, and offering contractual jobs to approximately 220 students.

University-Industry linkages have been significantly enhanced through ORIC's efforts, focusing on problem-solving research and interactive sessions with organizations like the Faisalabad Chamber of Commerce & Industry (FCCI) and Engro Fertilizers. UAF is actively collaborating with numerous private sector organizations on various programs and initiatives.

In the coming years, UAF is committed to playing a pivotal role in ensuring national food self-sufficiency and contributing to the GDP by reducing the import bill.

5. Services provided other departments/institutes

Under the directions of Vice Chancellor & Dean of Sciences, CHTL staff visited the PBI, April 2024. During this visit at the PBI we have successfully done the following jobs.

1. Technically assisted the PBI to install the electricity infrastructure in the Central Laboratory
2. Put the following equipment in order installed in the different labs.

Equipment	Working Status	Action
Gas Chromatograph	Functional	Gas cylinders, column and cables were reconnected. After equipment service, methanol was tested as the solvent and the results were submitted to the PBI Lab In-Charge. Procurement of the standards and reagents was recommended.
HPLC	Functional	Isocratic HPLC was divergent of it's accessories like column, drain pipes and solvent/mobile phase. After sorting out the issues, the equipment was made functional. Recommendation: Standards and reagents should be purchased for sample analysis.
Vacuum Drying Oven	Functional	Comprehensive hands-on training on the operation and maintenance of the equipment was imparted to the designated operator.
Digital Drying Oven, Furnace, Autoclave, Weight Balance, Centrifuge machine, Soxhlet Apparatus and Spectrophotometer	Functional	The operational procedure was practically demonstrated to the designated operators.
EC Meter	Functional	The meter was successfully installed, and a practical demonstration of its operation and maintenance was provided to the designated operator.
Flame Photometer	Functional	The flame photometer was serviced, and a practical demonstration of standard preparation and analysis for sodium (Na) and potassium (K) was performed.

Introduction

The Business Incubation Center (BIC) at the University of Agriculture Faisalabad (UAF) has consistently been at the forefront of fostering entrepreneurship and innovation among faculty and students. In its continued efforts to create a robust entrepreneurial ecosystem, BIC initiated a groundbreaking program encouraging faculty-led and student startups to register with the Securities and Exchange Commission of Pakistan (SECP). This initiative aimed to formalize entrepreneurial ventures, enhance their credibility, and enable them to access funding, partnerships, and growth opportunities. By promoting SECP registration, BIC is paving the way for a sustainable and impactful startup culture at UAF.

Empowering Innovation through SECP Registration

This initiative resulted in a significant milestone, with numerous faculty members and students successfully registering their startups with SECP during the year. These newly registered startups span diverse industries, including agri-tech, food processing, and renewable energy, reflecting the university's commitment to innovation and societal impact. The formalization of these ventures has not only strengthened their operational capabilities but has also contributed to the national agenda of fostering a knowledge-based economy.

In addition to SECP registration, BIC launched several complementary programs to support startups, including mentorship sessions with industry experts, workshops on business planning and financial management, and networking events to connect startups with potential investors and collaborators. Furthermore, the center established a dedicated helpdesk to assist entrepreneurs with the SECP registration process, ensuring seamless and efficient support. These initiatives collectively highlight BIC's unwavering dedication to empowering entrepreneurial minds and driving economic growth.

ESTABLISHMENT OF PAK-KOREA NUTRITION CENTER

The project entitled “Establishment of Pak-Korea Nutrition Center (PKNC) to Improve Child and Community Nutrition” is a joint venture between the Islamic Republic of Pakistan and Republic of Korea (South Korea) with financial support from Higher Education Commission (HEC) and Korea International Cooperation Agency (KOICA). The primary objective of the project is to enhance nutritional status of children, mothers and communities across Pakistan through a multifaceted approach encompassing research, product development, trainings and policy advocacy.

The project has achieved great milestones on its initial stage during the 1st year. The ground-breaking ceremony for the construction of state-of-the-art PKNC building was held on Sept 02, 2022. A dedicated PKNC website and Facebook page along with a YouTube channel has been developed for social media campaigns. In addition, PKNC Survey app has been developed during 1st year of the project. PKNC invitational Training was arranged for the 14 Master Trainers of PKNC, UAF and 20 Master Trainers of Provincial Partners in South Korea. A number of nutrition awareness camps, workshops, conferences and seminars were arranged, and significant advancements have been made in developing nutrient-dense and value-added food products. The PKNC has also been made a chain of Provincial Partners and outreach centers in collaboration with different educational and health care institutions all around the country to support its agenda. There are five provincial partners: 1- Faisalabad Medical University (Punjab) 2- Sindh Agriculture University, Tandojam (Sindh) 3- Karakoram International University (Gilgit Baltistan) 4- Bolan University of Medical And Health Sciences, Quetta (Balochistan) 5- University of Agriculture, Peshawar (KPK) and two outreach centers: 1- Sardar Bahadur Khan Women’s University, Quetta, Balochistan 2- Narowal, Punjab. This initiative not only provided advanced knowledge and skills but also enhanced best practices and innovative international approaches in the field of nutrition.

The construction of PKNC-UAF Building is in its completion phase. This state-of-the-art facility is designed to be a hub for research, training, and community engagement, significantly boosting the project’s capacity to impact nutritional practices and policies nationwide. The construction of this building is covering a great milestone in providing a dedicated space to execute various project activities such as research & development and trainings.

The establishment of a Food and Agriculture Museum/ Agriculture Heritage Museum at UAF is another significant milestone of PKNC project. This museum is designed to preserve and showcase Pakistan’s rich food and agricultural heritage, linking the past with contemporary practices in a meaningful way. It will offer visitors a complete experience that highlight traditional food production methods, cultural significance of various crops, and the evolution of agricultural practices over time. The construction of Food and Agriculture Heritage Museum is in progress.

Another integral component of the PKNC project is to establish the PKNC Outlet for marketing and distribution of fortified nutritional products developed under PKNC research. The outlet will showcase and commercialize a range of nutrient-dense products developed under the project.

Moreover, PKNC has awarded several Research Grants to national researchers through advertisement for the support of nutrition research agenda and startups. These include five applied research grants, two policy grants, one COVID-19 focused policy grant, and four startup grants.

In the realm of training and capacity building contributing with policy advocacy, the PKNC project has made remarkable strides comprising six thematic Chairs and three Training groups including 1-Clinical Dietitian Training Group, 2-Lady Health Workers Training Group and 3-School Advisor Training Group. The six thematic chairs include, 1- Nutrition & Public Health, 2- Food Fortification, 3- Food Processing, 4- Product Development & Value Addition, 5- Compositional Analysis & Database 6- Policy, Advocacy & Outreach. In the second year, the PKNC has trained thousands of frontline workers to introduce them with preventive nutrition.

The research and innovation in recipe development have been pivotal aspect of the chair Nutrition & Public Health, PKNC. Over the past year, significant advancements have been made in developing a range of nutrient-dense, value-added food based school meal program including children with age 6-9 years. The chair has also conducted dietary survey for situational analysis the 400 patients for iron and zinc deficiencies at different hospital of Punjab and also developed and validate food directory 253 recipes for portion size in Pakistan via standardization of food. These products are tailored to address specific health concerns prevalent in the population, such as micronutrient deficiencies and diet-related chronic diseases.

The chair Food Fortification, PKNC has also achieved significant technological innovations, especially in food fortification. A notable advancement is the homogenization technology and development of 10 fortify products with vitamins A and D, and 6 products of composite flour and food multi-mixes developed ensuring even commercialization/ distribution of 3 essential nutrients. This innovation addresses widespread vitamin deficiencies, improving overall health. The project has also explored coating and dusting techniques to fortify locally available salt and spices with iron and zinc, to combat anemia and other micronutrient deficiencies. This initiative is a part of broader strategy to enhance nutritional food quality supply and encourage healthier eating habits.

The PKNC chair Food Processing, emphasis and working on sustainable food processing technologies that reflects the adoption of innovative techniques with optimized processes such as microwave processing, ultrasonic treatment, and other green technologies. These methods not only enhance the nutritional profile of the products but also contribute to environmental sustainability by reducing energy consumption. The PKNC is further evidenced by the development of biodegradable packaging with industrial partnership which addresses the environmental friendly impact of food packaging.

The chair PKNC Product Development & Value Addition, is working on research initiatives include the conduction of nutrition-related surveys, which have provided valuable data on dietary habits, nutritional status, and food composition across different regions. The chair has developed and commercialized 20 value-added food products in collaboration with mass scale producers and also maintained private partnerships developed for mass scale production of products. This data is crucial for understanding the nutritional landscape of Pakistan and identifying priority areas for food product development and value added products.

The chair Compositional Analysis & Database, is working on the analysis of local food items and also analyzed 150 products/indigenous/fortified foods for nutritional and chemical parameters to make a databank. This databank may use for making dietary guidelines and policy making. Furthermore, for community engagement and public awareness the project has developed a robust online presence in this year, including dedicated PKNC website, mobile application (PKNC Food Composition) including social media pages available for public at play store and app store as the part of social media campaigns, to disseminate information about nutrition and healthy eating.

The chair Policy Advocacy and Outreach, PKNC has been a critical component of PKNC project, aimed at influencing national nutrition policies and programs. The chair/project has trained 34 master trainers from Korea and actively engaged in policy dialogues, bringing together stakeholders from government, academia, industry, and civil society to discuss and formulate strategies for improving nutritional landscape in Pakistan. A notable event was the policy dialogue, which was complemented by the development of comprehensive nutrition-related strategies.

Collaboration with the Food Industry has been a key strategy in the PKNC project, aimed at scaling up the production of innovative nutritional products. PKNC has signed memorandum of understanding (MoU) with Country Plus Foods and WIZTEC Food Solutions.

In conclusion, the second year of the project "Establishment of Pak-Korea Nutrition Center (PKNC) to Improve Child and Community Nutrition" has made significant strides in promoting optimal nutrition and health outcomes in Pakistan. Over the past year, we have successfully implemented a range of initiatives, including capacity-building programs for healthcare professionals, community-based nutrition interventions, and advocacy efforts to inform policy and practice.

CENTER FOR ADVANCED STUDIES IN AGRICULTURE AND FOOD SECURITY (CAS-AFS)

Center for Advanced Studies in Agriculture and Food Security (CAS-AFS) at UAF has been recently designated as a D-8 Research Center by the D-8 Organization. The D-8, also known as Developing-8, is an intergovernmental organization of eight developing countries (Bangladesh, Egypt, Indonesia, Iran, Malaysia, Nigeria, Pakistan, and Turkey) established to improve member countries' position in the global economy, diversify and create new opportunities in trade relations, enhance participation in decision-making at international level, and improve standards of living. CAS-AFS was selected due to its state-of-the-art research and academic resources in the domain of agriculture and food security and its location in the top agricultural institution of the Pakistan.

The center was originally established by HEC with funding from USAID to build capacity in crucially important areas for a sustainable growth in agriculture and food security as per SDG#2. The center worked to improve governance of UAF (training of key persons, development of policy and operational manuals), revamp pedagogy and upgrade research capacity to meet societal needs. Under curricular reforms programs, CAS launched three postgraduate degree programs (Climate Change, Seed Science & Technology, and Human Nutrition and Dietetics) and a short course on One Health. This initiative particularly benefitted students to access higher education on merit and need based as well as capable faculty to conduct innovative research through competitive grants. Through a scholarly exchange program in collaboration with the University of California-Davis and Washington State University-Pullman, the Centre built a cohesive scientific community capable of doing cutting edge research and transfer relevant knowledge and technology to society at large. A fully trained faculty having capability of competitive research and resource mobilization has been placed in the center's new building to serve as a nucleus to initiate interdisciplinary research and training programs related to agriculture and food security. It is ensured that its research agenda meets the client's needs and attracts private sector funding in future to become sustainable. Five chairs were established for addressing the most important areas to address emerging issues in food security.

Utilization of latest advancements in the field of agriculture in D-8 countries is crucial for their sustainability and self-reliance. With unique infrastructure, location, and ongoing activities at CAS-AFS, it can work as an R&D hub to help institutions of D-8 Countries in building their capacity in research, academics, and outreach, and adopt latest technologies and innovations.

CAS-AFS Facilities/Infrastructure

In addition to recently developed resources at CAS, the UAF is a rich source of infrastructure and facilities like experimental farms, greenhouses, Hi-Tech lab, and several equipment present in different departments of faculties. Resources of CAS as well as UAF are readily available for use by every researcher and student. CAS-AFS was developed with an effective management structure with clearly defined roles and responsibilities. It had several dedicated management sections, each headed by a key personnel/Line manager. These sections included Monitoring & Evaluation, Administration, Finance & Grants, Procurement, Communications, and Internal Audit. The USAID built the capacity of each section through professional training courses at LUMS along with development of procedural manuals (HR Manual, Finance Manual, Grants Manual, Procurement Manual, and Internal Audit Manual) which are followed in letter and spirit for all processes at CAS-AFS. It was due to effective management, monitoring and evaluation mechanisms of CAS that the center surpassed in achieving all mandatory targets of the project in the given time frame.

ESTABLISHMENT OF PUNJAB BIOENERGY INSTITUTE

To establish bioenergy research systems for facilitating the development of energy energy-scarce sector of the country in general and Agriculture in particular, eleven research and development labs (including one HI-TECH Laboratory) have been established at Punjab Bioenergy Institute (PBI). The laboratory infrastructure established at PBI is one of the state-of-the-art of its kind in the country in the Bioenergy sector.

To launch degree courses and programs in Energy Systems, BSc MSc and PhD degree programs have been launched and approved in 2017, 2019, and 2023, respectively. The undergrad program has recently been accredited at Level-II (The highest accreditation level approved by the Washington Accord) from PEC, while Postgraduate programs are approved by the Higher Education Commission (HEC), Pakistan. A total of 333 students have graduated from the said degree to date.

To develop a bioenergy skill training and outreach program for enhancing self-employment and Poverty alleviation, initially, an awareness program was conducted in 2019, which provided a platform to connect all stakeholders. Moreover, skills and vocational training programs were organized under the Punjab Skills Development Fund (PSDF) for the training of Biogas plant supervisors and technicians for proper installation, operation, and maintenance. The plant supervisors and technicians were physically engaged in the construction and installation of biogas plants so that they are able to construct their biogas plants and for their rural community as well. Now the project infrastructure is completed and regular training programs for all stakeholders shall be executed after allocation of the recurring budget.

To strengthen R&D in energy and environment sectors and the nexus of energy with Agriculture, the establishment of state-of-the-art Laboratory infrastructure, hiring of highly foreign-qualified faculty, collaboration with national and international organizations, bioenergy demonstration plants, hunting of competitive research grants, and trained/skilled human resource development have strengthened the project.

The pilot project of integrated energy for the uplift of the rural areas of Punjab is completed. A hybrid Power plant of biogas/biomass solution (100kW) and solar solution (100kW) has been demonstrated successfully at PBI. The same model is also being replicated in rural areas of Sammundari and Vehari. Solar and biogas are indigenous and especially abundantly available in rural areas of Punjab and Pakistan in general. Punjab is one of the best areas for solar irradiation, coupled with the fact that rural populations have historically and culturally always kept animals for sustenance. The hybrid energy solution would provide electricity to the rural communities. The hybrid plant would supply solar electricity during the daytime, and the biogas generators would support the system during the night. The PC-IV of the project was submitted, and its evaluation is in process.

WATER MANAGEMENT RESEARCH CENTER (WMRC)

Water Management Research Centre (WMRC) is a strategic research and training Centre established at the University of Agriculture, Faisalabad (UAF) to conduct field research and carry out outreach activities to promote efficient and sustainable use of water resources in collaboration with its stakeholders. The Center not only maintained its research impact on the farming community but also expanded its research and collaborative activities from the national to international level.

Vision

The WMRC aspires to be a Centre of excellence in conducting research and providing outreach services on water management problems for improving irrigation efficiency, crop water productivity, environment protection, groundwater sustainability, and mitigate climate change impact on crops and water resources of the country in collaboration with all of its stakeholders.

Mission

The WMRC is dedicated to providing on-farm facilities for conducting field experiments, offering water management skill enhancement courses, and outreaching to the farmers and stakeholders for soliciting their feedback to streamline research on water-related issues to promote on-farm efficient water management practices.

Achievements for the year 2023-24

Field Research Activities

The WMRC team has conducted extensive field research on on-farm water management practices such as laser land leveling, mechanized bed plantation, water course improvement, skimming wells, groundwater recharge techniques, rainwater harvesting water quality and quantity, including studying the impact of climate change on water availability and identifying new technologies for water treatment and conservation in addition to varietal trials of various crops.

During 2023-24, various varietal trials of rice, wheat, soybean, cotton (triple gene), sugarcane, and okra under raised bed mechanized cultivation were carried out last year. In this regard, the Center has filled three elite lines of rice (UAF Rice-1, UAF Rice-2, UAF Rice-3) for registration to the Federal Seed Certification and Registration Department (FSCRD) Pakistan.
