OBJECTIVE

Practical application of professional knowledge and experience

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

1. Assistant Research Officer (1st November 2005 to 31-7-2009)

Postharvest Research Centre, Ayub Agricultural Research Institute Faisalabad, Pakistan. As Assistant Research Officer, I have conducted 13 research trials on shelf-life extension and quality estimation of Fruits and Vegetables during storage and published their results in Annual Progress Reports. These trials are mainly comprised of Postharvest Management Practices including grading, packing, transportation and storage studies on Fruits and Vegetables. During the prescribed periods rendered the in-house and outreach trainings to the growers, processors, and exporters.

2. Research Associate (1st August 2009 to 31-5-2010)

Postharvest Research Centre, Ayub Agricultural Research Institute Faisalabad, Pakistan. As Research Associate, I have worked in PARB Project No. 152 in which I have developed skin coating material (SCM) from ingenious resources to enhance the shelf life of Fruits and Vegetables. Such preliminary studies were involved for the selection of oils, stabilizers, emulsifies and preservatives to develop stable emulsions. Later, these findings were applied on Citrus Fruit in collaboration with private sector in Sargodha division.

3. Assistant Food Technologist (1st June 2010 to 1-3-2018)

Food Technology Section, Postharvest Research Centre, Ayub Agricultural Research Institute Faisalabad, Pakistan. As Assistant Food Technologist, I have worked for more than 07 years and conducted 44 research trials and published their results in Annual Progress Reports. These research studies were comprised of development, standardization, quality estimation and shelf-life extension of innovative value-added products from Fruits, Vegetables and Cereals. Some famous value-added products which I have developed & commercialized at Food Technology Section are dietetic bitter guard drink, carbonated black iced tea, processed, and packed dates after curing, date vinegar, mango pickle from ingenious resource, fig jam, avocado jam, avocado sauce, tamarind, and tomato garlic sauce. Some successful preliminary research trials of various value-added products include functional drinks like cinnamon, cardamom, aloe vera, psyllium husk, lavender, lemon grass and moringa based raw materials. Such trials were tested both as carbonated and noncarbonated beverages.

4. Sugarcane Technologist (2nd March 2018 to 23-09-2019)

Food Technology Section, Postharvest Research Centre, Ayub Agricultural Research Institute Faisalabad, Pakistan. This job mainly included supervision of staff, administrative work and monitoring of ongoing PARB projects as Project Manager.

5. Assistant Professor (23-09-2019 to date)

National Institute of Food Science and Technology, University of Agriculture, Faisalabad. This work includes responsibilities for Teaching, Research, outreach training programs and Supervision of M.Phil. and Ph.D. students.

Higher Education Commission of Pakistan (HEC) approved Ph.D. supervisor.

6. Consultant at Friday Food Company (An agriculture farming and processing company)

EDUCATIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

1. National Institute of Food Science and Technology, University of Agriculture, Faisalabad, Pakistan.

Ph.D. Food Technology, (2003-2009). 1st Division

THESIS: "Development of functional beverage from barley"

2. National Institute of Food Science and Technology, University of Agriculture, Faisalabad, Pakistan.

2 years of Master of Science Honors in Food Technology.

(1999- 2001) CGPA 3.66/4.00 1st Division

THESIS: "Studies on physico-chemical characteristics of canned Chinese mushroom (Volvariella volvaceae)"

3. National Institute of Food Science and Technology, University of Agriculture, Faisalabad, Pakistan.

4 years of Bachelor of Science Honors in Agriculture Major Food Technology

(1995-1999) CGPA 3.30/4.00 1st Division

4. Government College Faisalabad, Pakistan.

Higher Secondary School Certificate Exam (Pre-Medical), Faisalabad Board

(1991-94) 758/1100 1st Division
